Military Chiefs Off for Check on Viet Nam Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, flew to South Viet Nam today on a special fact finding mission for President Kennedy.

Their Air Force transport plane was airborne from Andrews Air Force Base at 10 a.m., shortly after they received final instructions from the President at the White House.

They were with the President 32 minutes. Undersecretary of State George Ball and presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy also attended.

Speaking with reporters briefly before takeoff, McNamara said that until recently the progress of the anti-Communist military effort by the South Vietnamese forces with U.S. support had been "proceeding very satisfactorily."

He said he and Taylor were going to the vital Southeast Asian country to determine "whether that military effort has been adversely affected by the unrest of the past several weeks."

By unrest, McNamara obviously meant the political turmoil within South Viet Nam resulting from a recent crackdown by the Vietnamese government on Buddhists, students and other opponents.

These actions by President Ngo Dinh Diem have brought his government into policy conflicts with the United States.

When reporters asked whether his hurry to mission indicated a deteriorating military situation in South Viet Nam, McNamara replied "definitely not."

He added that he did not want to draw any conclusions in advance of his week-long inspection and survey which would take him and Taylor the length and breadth of the tortured country and into contact with senior U.S. military diplomatic officials and Vietnamese authorities.

The 20-hour flight is due to end in Saigon Tuesday night, Viet Nam time.

The McNamara-Taylor plane will make one refueling stop on the way at Elmendorf Air Force Base in Alaska.

The presence of Ball at the White House meeting indicated that McNamara and Taylor will examine the political as well as military situation in Viet Nam.

The farewell White House meeting obviously was intended to dramatize the mission and to demonstrate that McNamara and Taylor—two of the toughest men in the administration—carry the President's authority and backing.

Plans for the week-long visit of McNamara and Taylor in the tortured Southeast Asian country had a distinct no-nonsense tone.

One top source said McNamara and Taylor will be out "under every bush and tree" in South Viet Nam, judging for themselves whether the U.S.-supported fight against Communist guerrillas has been set back by internal religious-political divisions there.

"There will be no black-tie dinners," this official said.

One of the main purposes of the McNamara-Taylor mission is to sort the truth from a welter of conflicting reports to Kennedy from different official U.S. sources in Viet Nam.

Some of these sources have reported to Washington that the war is going badly because of lack of popular support for President Ngo Dinh Diem; others have conveyed a picture of U.S.-backed Vietnamese troops making strong gains on the Communist Viet Cong.

Some U.S. representatives in Saigon are understood to have advised Kennedy the American effort to save South Viet Nam from communism cannot win if Diem remains in power, others have taken a more kindly view toward Diem.

New Rockets Due for Tests

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Two revolutionary upper stage rockets which burn high-energy liquid hydrogen are being groomed for test flights vital to manned and unmanned space programs.

They are the S-4, second stage of the Saturn space booster, and the Centaur, second stage of an Atlas-Centaur vehicle.

Difficulties in harnessing frigid liquid hydrogen have delayed development of both rockets, causing slippage in several key projects, principally unmanned moon probes.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration are confident that laboratory and ground-firing tests have solved the problems.

The 41-foot S-4 was flown here over the weekend from the Douglas Aircraft plant in Sacramento, Calif. After several weeks of hangar checks, it will be joined with an 82-foot Saturn booster now undergoing tests.

British Fuss In Indonesia Flares Anew

AKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The British-Indonesian dispute flared again today over the guarding of Britain's ruined embassy, burned by mobs in a wave of violence that almost caused a diplomatic break.

A diplomatic crisis was averted when Gov. Sumarno Sosroatmodjo of Jakarta agreed through a police representative to a joint British-Indonesian guard to protect documents in the embassy's vault.

British Ambassador A. G. Gilchrist had just told a news conference that a senior police official had refused to let him into the embassy Sunday night. He suddenly broke off the conference and hurried to the embassy.

Embassy informants said Gilchrist had just been informed that Indonesians were trying to break into the vault. This time Gilchrist brushed past protesting Indonesian police and remained in the embassy for an hour and a half until the guard agreement was reached.

The mobs that burned the embassy Wednesday were protesting the creation of the British-protected Federation of Malaysia, embracing Malaysia, Singapore, Sarawak and Sabah (North Borneo), all former British territories.

The State Highway Patrol investigated the crash. According to the report, Neal was traveling south on Route 799. He lost control of his car as he topped a hillcrest on a sharp curve and went off the left side of the road.

His vehicle came back on the right side, rolled over several times and came to a stop against a telephone pole, officers said.

Both Van Hoose and Neal were thrown clear of the car. The auto was demolished.

Widow Says Negro Still In 'Bondage'

CLEVELAND (AP) — The American Negro is in bondage because of the color of his skin, the widow of Medgar Evers told a membership meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People here Sunday.

Her husband, Mississippi field director for the NAACP, was slain by a sniper's bullet outside his home in Jackson June 12. She told her audience: "I am not a speaker, but it has been thrust upon me."

Mrs. Evers said those who seek to keep the Negro in bondage are "slaves to hate which eats away at their souls and will destroy them."

Those who want to mourn the death of her husband and the four children who died in the Birmingham, Ala., church bombing Sept. 15 should do so by dedicating themselves to the advancement of civil rights, she said.

Mrs. Evers said racial conditions are improving in Mississippi. She said that Negroes now are being accepted on police forces and for jury duty and that some lunch counters and waiting rooms are being integrated.

She stirred her audience when she talked of her three children. She said her 16-year-old son carries a rifle to bed for protection.

Subtle Resistance Seen to Pope Paul

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A subtle sign of resistance to Pope Paul's call for reforms in the Vatican Curia appeared over the week end.

Il Tempo, a major Rome newspaper whose Vatican news reflects the thinking of conservative Vatican officials, omitted all mention of the pontiff's call Saturday for internationalization of the Italian-dominated Curia, powerful central administration of the Roman Catholic Church.

In its story on the pontiff's address to an audience for the Curia, Il Tempo quoted only passages in which Pope Paul praised the Curia's devotion and ability. Nowhere did it use the words "reform" or "criticism of the Curia," which the Pope discussed at length.

Test Ban Treaty OK Is Expected Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected today a proposal by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., to require Soviet removal of nuclear weapons and military personnel from Cuba as the price for U.S. ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

The vote was 17 for the reservation and 75 against.

The reservation offered by Goldwater, a possible 1964 Republican presidential nominee, was regarded as the biggest hurdle for the treaty banning nuclear testing except underground.

The pact itself, now signed by 100 nations, is scheduled for a Senate vote at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. Overwhelming approval appears to be assured.

Goldwater told his colleagues that if they must vote for the treaty, then, "in your nation's name and in the name of the trust your nation has placed upon you, demand at least this single honorable, appropriate and meaningful price."

Goldwater's reservation to the resolution of ratification was the first called up for action as the Senate neared the end of two weeks of debate on the treaty to ban all but underground nuclear testing.

The Senate came to the question of reservations quickly when Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., dropped his own fight for five "understandings."

Dodd urged ratification of the pact, saying he believes "the good in it outweighs the bad."

He said he would offer later a separate resolution calling upon the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee to make periodic reports to the Senate on the status of the U.S. underground nuclear testing program, the status of nuclear laboratories, "the observance of the treaty," and its impact on national security.

"My guess is that in the neighborhood of 84 or 85" senators will vote in favor of ratification, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said in an interview.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield wouldn't predict the final tally, but expressed confidence the treaty would be approved by a margin well above the two-thirds majority required for ratification. If all 100 senators vote, 67 favorable votes would be needed.

An Associated Press survey showed today that 81 senators are committed to or are inclined to vote for ratification, 16 are opposed and 3 have not announced their positions. The three are Sens. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., John J. McClellan, D-Ark., and Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine.

An obstacle was avoided by agreement to include in the preamble of the ratification a resolution assuring that any future treaty amendments must be submitted to the Senate for ratification.

Both Dirksen and Mansfield predicted a big turnout for Tuesday's vote, Dirksen said. "I am confident every Republican member will be on hand," Mansfield told a newsman attendance "will hit 99—all will be there unless it's just impossible to do so."

In using the figure 99, Mansfield referred to the absence of ailing Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif. He is listed in favor of the treaty.

Mrs. Evers said those who seek to keep the Negro in bondage are "slaves to hate which eats away at their souls and will destroy them."

Those who want to mourn the death of her husband and the four children who died in the Birmingham, Ala., church bombing Sept. 15 should do so by dedicating themselves to the advancement of civil rights, she said.

Mrs. Evers said racial conditions are improving in Mississippi. She said that Negroes now are being accepted on police forces and for jury duty and that some lunch counters and waiting rooms are being integrated.

She stirred her audience when she talked of her three children. She said her 16-year-old son carries a rifle to bed for protection.

Once Around Roundtown

BERGER HOSPITAL today was the recipient of a $50 check from Ted and Adah Lewis. The money was sent in memory of Charles H. May, prominent Circleville attorney who died Sept. 1.

The check was sent to Ben Gordon, close friend of Ted and Adah. The remittance was to be turned over to Berger today.

Ted currently is playing at the Desert Inn at Las Vegas. The engagement is scheduled to end Sept. 29.

According to information received by Gordon, Ted plans to return to New York following the Desert Inn stint, then be in Circleville the fourth week of October when he will speak at the local BPO Elks 75th birthday anniversary banquet. Gordon also said there is a chance he will be here sometime during the Oct. 16-19 Pumpkin Show.

A LARGE and delicious looking cake today graced the office of the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners.

Subtle Resistance Seen to Pope Paul

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A subtle sign of resistance to Pope Paul's call for reforms in the Vatican Curia appeared over the week end.

Il Tempo, a major Rome newspaper whose Vatican news reflects the thinking of conservative Vatican officials, omitted all mention of the pontiff's call Saturday for internationalization of the Italian-dominated Curia, powerful central administration of the Roman Catholic Church.

In its story on the pontiff's address to an audience for the Curia, Il Tempo quoted only passages in which Pope Paul praised the Curia's devotion and ability. Nowhere did it use the words "reform" or "criticism of the Curia," which the Pope discussed at length.

Test Ban Treaty OK Is Expected Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected today a proposal by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., to require Soviet removal of nuclear weapons and military personnel from Cuba as the price for U.S. ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

The vote was 17 for the reservation and 75 against.

The reservation offered by Goldwater, a possible 1964 Republican presidential nominee, was regarded as the biggest hurdle for the treaty banning nuclear testing except underground.

The pact itself, now signed by 100 nations, is scheduled for a Senate vote at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. Overwhelming approval appears to be assured.

Goldwater told his colleagues that if they must vote for the treaty, then, "in your nation's name and in the name of the trust your nation has placed upon you, demand at least this single honorable, appropriate and meaningful price."

Goldwater's reservation to the resolution of ratification was the first called up for action as the Senate neared the end of two weeks of debate on the treaty to ban all but underground nuclear testing.

The Senate came to the question of reservations quickly when Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., dropped his own fight for five "understandings."

Dodd urged ratification of the pact, saying he believes "the good in it outweighs the bad."

He said he would offer later a separate resolution calling upon the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee to make periodic reports to the Senate on the status of the U.S. underground nuclear testing program, the status of nuclear laboratories, "the observance of the treaty," and its impact on national security.

"My guess is that in the neighborhood of 84 or 85" senators will vote in favor of ratification, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said in an interview.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield wouldn't predict the final tally, but expressed confidence the treaty would be approved by a margin well above the two-thirds majority required for ratification. If all 100 senators vote, 67 favorable votes would be needed.

An Associated Press survey showed today that 81 senators are committed to or are inclined to vote for ratification, 16 are opposed and 3 have not announced their positions. The three are Sens. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., John J. McClellan, D-Ark., and Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine.

An obstacle was avoided by agreement to include in the preamble of the ratification a resolution assuring that any future treaty amendments must be submitted to the Senate for ratification.

Both Dirksen and Mansfield predicted a big turnout for Tuesday's vote. Dirksen said, "I am confident every Republican member will be on hand." Mansfield told a newsman attendant "will hit 99—all will be there unless it's just impossible to do so."

In using the figure 99, Mansfield referred to the absence of ailing Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif. He is listed in favor of the treaty.

Carpenters Save Boy from Ledge

AUGUSTA, Mont. (AP)—Working in early morning darkness to day on the side of a mountain, two husky carpenters assembled a 100-foot ladder a board at a time, and rescued a 10-year-old boy from the ledge of a cliff where he was trapped more than 20 hours.

The two men, A. R. Bender and Charles Welsh, Augusta carpenters, won a race against time to get young Bruce Krummel off a two-foot ledge some 1,000 feet above the Sun River in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains.

The boy was trapped on the ledge Sunday morning while on a climbing expedition alone. He was on a weekend fishing trip with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gill, of Great Falls, Mont.

He is Mrs. Gill's son by a previous marriage.

"It sure was a lot of excitement," Bruce said with a grin when he was safely returned to his parents.

For the two carpenters, the rescue was a grueling experience in which they veritably clung to the side of the cliff like two flies on a wall.

Some 125 feet above them sat the boy, clad in T-shirt and jeans, with his feet dangling over the side.

Below, the Sun River wound from the Rocky Mountains in this rugged north central country of Montana.

Two previous rescue attempts had failed. Once Bender missed by inches of reaching the boy with a rope.

An attempt by Air Force helicopter was called off because of darkness.

Bender and Welsh constructed a section of the ladder at their position below the boy.

They put it against the face of the cliff, and standing near the highest rung, began to extend it, using lumber, hammer, nails and spikes to secure it to the rocky wall.

Other rescuers passed up the lumber and nails.

It took four hours before Bender was high enough to reach the lad, but shortly after Bruce was in the arms of his parents.

The boy suffered no ill effects during his stay on the narrow ledge although three rain showers swept over the canyon during his ordeal.

"I'm not hungry, I'm just tired," he said.

"This was the happiest moment of my life, when I got hold of that boy," Bender said afterward. "But my feet are a little sore," he added.

Bender said the boy remained calm during the ordeal.

"Let's go home. I want to go to bed," the boy said after getting a hug and kiss from his mother.

Larry Thomas, Route 4, called the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department at 2:18 a. m. yesterday to report his car had just been stolen.

Six minutes later Deputy Gene Kerns had the car and four persons in custody.

Arrested for investigation of auto larceny were Robert Fyffe, 309 E. High St.; Robert Vickeroy, 20, of 427 Stella Ave.; Janice Ann Dean, 19, of 227 Town St. and Betty Lou Haddox, 18, of 359 S. Scioto St. Kerns, who was enroute to Mt.

Sterling on a call, spotted the missing car at a W. Main St. service station. He immediately placed the four persons under arrest.

Fyffe told Kerns he and the other three were returning home from a tavern near Amanda when his car had run out of gas.

They started looking for aid. According to Fyffe, he had just borrowed the car. When arrested he was purchasing a can of gas.

No charges were filed against the two women. However Fyffe was bound to the grand jury by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb today on charges of a auto larceny filed by the sheriff's department. Bond was set at $2,500.

Vickeroy was charged with intoxication. Judge Lamb levied a fine and placed Vickeroy on probation for two years.

Fyffe has a previous criminal record which includes strong armed robbery. He was sent to the Lancaster Boys' Industrial School by the juvenile court on that charge.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Earl Warren, now 72, will be honored this week in San Francisco for his 10 years as chief justice of the United States. He has been one of the strongest chief justices in American history.

In this past decade, one of the court's most tremendous, he has been eulogized for decisions that were social and political landmarks. For exactly the same decisions there have been demands to impeach him and calls to lynch him.

The attacks are not new. The great Chief Justice John Marshall was reviled too. Throughout history attacks on the court have been in proportion to special interests frustrated or public feeling stirred. Not all have been unjustified.

A collection of those attacks over more than 170 years, and this writer has made a collection, is often a bewildering sight.

The court created in 1789, was attacked before it came into existence. Just the thought of it was enough to arouse some antagonism. No wonder it started off in a bad reputation.

Even John Jay, the first chief justice, was convinced when he resigned from the bench in 1795 that the court lacked weight and dignity. He declined reappointment.

Marshall's secretary of state under President John Adams when he was appointed chief justice in 1801, was extraordinarily strong and articulate and a great constitutional lawyer. He changed the history of the court and the country.

He remained chief justice 34 years. No one has served longer. In those years he was responsible for decisions under which, by asserting the power of the court and the government, he made the federal system strong.

Most memorable was the decision in which Marshall declared the court had the power to rule out any act of Congress or a legislature which the court considered unconstitutional.

This was not something that had been clearly spelled out by the framers of the Constitution. Marshall spelled it out and made it stick. He was repeatedly attacked. President Jefferson raged at him.

These were the three single decisions which, perhaps, got the most violent reaction in the court's history:

1857—Under Chief Justice Roger er B. Taney, one of the strongest chief justices, the court ruled in the case of a fugitive slave, Dred Scott, that a slave was not a citizen and not entitled to a citizen's protections.

This upset the federal government's effort to settle the slavery issue and was a factor in bringing on the Civil War. For years afterwards the court played a subdued and eclipsed role in the nation's affairs.

1895—The court declared the income tax unconstitutional although in 1881 the court had upheld the constitutionality of the temporary Civil War income tax. This got an enormously bad reaction.

It ignored the country's need for revenue. It took years for the country to undo this decision. It was finally accomplished in 1913 but only through adoption of the 16th Amendment which authorized an income tax.

1954—The court, reversing a previous decision of 1896 which said segregating Negroes was constitutional, outlawed public school segregation and said the principle of segregation was unconstitutional.

This decision, reflecting the world's midcentury attitude against the suppression of colored peoples, opened the gates to an American social revolution still going on. It gave Negroes the legal right to fight segregation everywhere.

Through history the court has reflected the mood of the times, or thought it did, for sometimes it has lagged behind the change in mood and attitude.

For more than half a century after the Civil War, in the time of American expansion when the philosophy of rugged individualism and no-government-interference dominated and there was scant concern for public welfare, the court followed that thinking.

As the 20th Century grew, and both the mood and needs of the nation changed, the court was still thinking in 19th Century terms, as it showed by knocking out President Roosevelt's emergency New Deal legislation.

It did a quick about-face after he forced it to face public glare by trying to "pack" it.

The Warren court, besides infuriating many white Southerners with its desegregation ruling, has angered other groups with its decisions over the past 10 years.

Politicians didn't like it when the court said it had a right to step in if states, many of them dominated by rural politicians, refused to give their voters far representation in their state legislature by giving city dwellers more seats there.

And the court in the past couple of years antagonized various religious groups, or at least individuals within the groups, by banning the requirement of religious exercises in public schools although this decision is rooted in the historic principle of keeping state and church, any church, separate.

U.S. Tax, Trade Dollars Get Eye

NEW YORK (AP) — Tax dollars and trade dollars provided the major interest in governmental and business circles the past week.

President Kennedy expressed his views on both subjects.

In each case the dominating idea was to get the economy going at a higher rate.

Urging support of tax-reduction legislation, Kennedy said it is in the national interest for Congress to produce favorable action.

He said it would mean higher profits for business men and hope of a new car, a new home, conveniences, education and travel for individuals.

The President took his case for a tax cut to the people in a television address.

He said his tax program would mean "release of $11 billion of extra after-tax purchasing power into the private economy before another downturn can begin."

He added: "No wasteful, inefficient or unnecessary governmental activity will be tolerated."

Republican lawmakers renewed their demands for a curb on federal spending to accompany any cut.

Kennedy also proposed a new growth target for American business. This is a 10 per cent increase in exports. He said it would erase the balance-of-payments deficit.

He made his views known in an address to 400 industry executives and others holding a conference on export expansion. Five of his Cabinet members supported his ideas.

Economists found encouragement in the fact that the current business upswing is ripening into old age without signs of abatement.

Personal incomes rose $700 million in August to a record annual rate of $464.9 billion. However, this was the smallest monthly increase since a dip in February.

The government reported that sales and earnings of manufacturers advanced sharply to record heights in the April-June quarter. Sales were estimated at $105.1 billion, a gain of nine per cent over the prior quarter and six per cent above a year earlier.

On the other hand, the annual rate of factory payrolls fell to $98.7 billion in August from the July level but exceeded the $95.1

LBJ Claims Dems Answer Vital Challenge

CLEVELAND (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, on a speaking tour of Pennsylvania and Ohio, called for election of Democrats before a crowd estimated at 85,000 Sunday at the Cuyahoga County Democrats' annual steer roast at Euclid Beach Park.

"We have made a record of responsible government in a period when America was confronted with some of the greatest challenges in its history," he said.

"The greatest Democrat of them all, John F. Kennedy, has had to face real issues in a real, troubled world."

"How to deal with the Soviets from a position of strength, while trying to grope our way out of the arms race and disaster."

"How to hold our country together as a united people, while facing the controversial issue of equal opportunity and true equality for all of our people before the law."

Johnson said other issues the President has faced are the need for more schools, unemployment and a medical insurance program for the aged in need of improvement.

Earlier, Johnson told 250 party leaders at a luncheon that Americans are beloved in neutral lands, and that this country will win the contest for freedom.

No UN Police Force

A United Nations police force is a dream that will never come true as long as the world's five "big" powers (Britain, the United States, Soviet Russia, France and Nationalist China) have the power to veto. Ideological warfare is such that a police force would be ineffectual if one of the big powers could effectively block action.

Thus, while Canada's minister of external affairs, Paul Martin attempts to persuade the UN to adopt a permanent police force, realistically he must know that the cause is hopeless.

A UN police force would only be effective in the unlikely circumstance that all world powers agreed on the action to be taken by it. What a chance! Operations of which they disapprove have never received support from the communist bloc.

Obviously no major power is going to support a plan if it would at any time interfere with its own interests. After all, the United States originally took the responsibility of replying to the North Korean communist attack on South Korea of the UN's shoulders because decisive "police" action was needed and the UN could not provide it.

A permanent UN police force is a pipe-dream, because it can never exist until the UN can agree on what constitutes a crime.

Longevity Tied to Mother's Age

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't have to open his mail:

How long you will live may depend partly on how old your mother was when you were born. Children of young mothers have fewer birth defects and a longer life span than the offspring of older women. The age of the father doesn't seem to make much difference.

Prosperity note: Americans write about 12 billion checks a year.

One reason there are more widows than widowers: Accidents take the lives of twice as many men as women. The stress diseases of civilization also are far more fatal in weakening men than in the more durable sex.

Household helps: If your plastic table tennis ball gets a dent in it, simply dunk it in boiling water. If the ball has no holes, it will quickly reassume its proper shape.

The high cost of government: Forty years ago Americans paid only $4 billion a year—$37 a person—for state and local taxes. Today state and local taxes have soared to $44 billion, or about $241 for every man, woman and child.

Our quotable notables: "When archaeologists discover the missing arms of Venus De Milo, they will find that she was wearing boxing gloves." — John Barrymore.

Social milestone: For the first time in history, fewer than 10 out of 100 Americans are now farm dwellers.

Education: Several smaller nations have outstripped the United States in the matter of literacy.

Iceland, for example, has no illiteracy among its normal adults, all can read or write.

Hairy history: In 1447 the Irish pushed a law that no man could wear a beard above his lips unless he wanted to pass as an Englishman. The English themselves started the custom of daily shaving around 1660. In Russia, beardless Peter the Great made noblemen pay a special tax if they wore whiskers.

Arboreal lore: The Olive tree is the longest-lived of fruit-bearing trees. Some in the Garden of Gethsemane in the Holy Land are estimated to be over 2,000 years old.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Cystic fibrosis is a disease that only recently has been brought to the attention of the American people. Physicians have been baffled for many years by this strange condition that affects the pancreas, the lungs and the sweat glands.

This odd triad produces symptoms that appear early in infancy and is considered to be an inherited condition. When both parents have this rare genetic tendency, there is a possibility that the child may be born with cystic fibrosis of the pancreas.

Marked malnutrition, repeated respiratory infections and a delicate susceptibility to heat prostration are some of the symptoms that characterize this peculiar, and often tragic, condition. Because the disease involves the pancreas, many digestive and intestinal problems arise soon after birth.

When the perspiration of the child shows a high concentration of salt by chemical analysis, and when there is a marked deficiency of an enzyme trypsin in the intestinal tract, it is suspected diagnosis of cystic fibrosis is usually confirmed.

Although the disease is not curable, it can be controlled in some children, especially when recognized very early. The best chance for survival of these children depends on the earliest recognition of the condition and persistent attention to all of the symptoms. The antibiotics have been a vital contribution to these patients whose repeated lung infections always threaten their lives.

Scientists all over the world are trying to make inroads into the mysteries of this disease which has been recognized as an entity only in the past 25 years. As with other illnesses whose Neighboring Pesthouse?

Before Castro, the island of Cuba was a relatively healthy place. Its ancient scourge of yellow fever had been wiped out, and typhoid and malaria had practically disappeared. The nation had a large and thriving cattle industry, which meant that the consumption of health-giving proteins was diffused among the population.

Since it takes time for any newly revolutionary nation, no matter how badly it may be governed, to run completely downhill from a medical or a health standpoint, Fidel Castro has not yet managed to turn his country into a pesthouse. But there are disturbing signs that he is on his way to doing just that.

The destruction of the cattle industry through confiscation and ruin of efficient ranches by the Castro government would, in any case, tend to decrease the consumption of proteins to the point where deficiency diseases would begin to exact a toll. But to Castro's and "Che" Guevara's crazy economic ideas as applied to cattle raising there has been added some thing worse. The United States Department of Agriculture has recently learned that the dread cattle disease of rinderpest has broken out in Cuba. And the question is whether the Castroites know enough about vaccination to stop its swift spread.

Rinderpest is a highly contagious virus which strikes suddenly and can kill a cow in just about a week's time. It is prevalent in Central Africa, where such organizations as the European Economic Community and AID (Agency for International Development) have struggled valiantly to contain it and wipe it out. The carcasses of slaughtered animals can carry the disease, which means that meat from a rinderpest area cannot be exported.

By vigorous control methods, rinderpest was wiped out in the Western Hemisphere a long time ago. Prior to its appearance in Castro's Cuba, the last outbreak of the disease in the new world occurred in Brazil in 1921. The Brazilians traced the outbreak to Cebu cattle imported from India. By slaughter and harsh quarantine measures, the disease was finally eradicated in Brazil. Just how the disease has gotten into Cuba is, of course, a subject for conjecture. It could have come from Soviet imports or from the Far East. Rinderpest has been endemic in Russia since the end of World War I. In the revolutionary and post-revolutionary periods in Russia, from 1917 to 1921, some six million head of cattle died from it.

In addition to the threat posed by diseased meat the Cubans are confronted by the possibility of a badly contaminated water supply. Escaped factory workers and engineers bring reports, printed in Daniel James's excellent "Free Cuba News", that the water systems of Havana, Camaguey and other Cuban towns are going to pieces through a combination of sabotage and natural wear-and-tear of machinery.

Says one former Havana factory worker, Filberto LAIGO: "The newspaper 'Revolution' published a story that the water was scarce because they were cleaning the aqueduct to Havana. They have been saying this for more than a month. They don't want to tell the people the truth, that three bombs were placed in the aqueduct and there have been many cases of sabotage of the pipes. Now, the pipes pump muddy water twice a week. If they put more bombs there, and there is more sabotage, Havana will be left without water."

Jorge Fernandez Valle, the exiled Cuban engineer who built Havana's most important aqueduct, says that the daily water consumption of the Cuban capital has dwindled from 150 million gallons to fifty million in the rainy season, and to even less in the dry. People in Havana have been queuing up for water. In Camaguey, the water system is in such straits that it can pump for only two hours a day, one in the morning and one at night.

By John Chamberlain

According to Fernandez Valle, gastroenteritis and typhoid are both very much on the increase in Cuban cities, especially among children. "Each glass of water drunk is a glass of bacilli that enter the body," says the engineer.

No wonder Castro insisted on medical supplies in exchange for the released captives of the Bay of Pigs. There are plenty of military and diplomatic reasons why the United States should give a top priority to the liquidation of the Castro regime. But even if Castro were harmless otherwise, it would still be desirable to get rid of him for public health reasons. We don't want a pesthouse on our doorstep.

No UN Police Force

A United Nations police force is a dream that will never come true as long as the world's five "big" powers (Britain, the United States, Soviet Russia, France and Nationalist China) have the power to veto. Ideological warfare is such that a police force would be ineffectual if one of the big powers could effectively block action.

Thus, while Canada's minister of external affairs, Paul Martin attempts to persuade the UN to adopt a permanent police force, realistically he must know that the cause is hopeless.

A UN police force would only be effective in the unlikely circumstance that all world powers agreed on the action to be taken by it. What a chance! Operations of which they disapprove have never received support from the communist bloc.

Obviously no major power is going to support a plan if it would at any time interfere with its own interests. After all, the United States originally took the responsibility of replying to the North Korean communist attack on South Korea of the UN's shoulders because decisive "police" action was needed and the UN could not provide it.

A permanent UN police force is a pipe-dream, because it can never exist until the UN can agree on what constitutes a crime.

Longevity Tied to Mother's Age

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't have to open his mail:

How long you will live may depend partly on how old your mother was when you were born. Children of young mothers have fewer birth defects and a longer life span than the offspring of older women. The age of the father doesn't seem to make much difference.

Prosperity note: Americans write about 12 billion checks a year.

One reason there are more widows than widowers: Accidents take the lives of twice as many men as women. The stress diseases of civilization also are far more fatal in weakling men than in the more durable sex.

Household helps: If your plastic table tennis ball gets a dent in it, simply dunk it in boiling water. If the ball has no holes, it will quickly reassume its proper shape.

The high cost of government: Forty years ago Americans paid only $4 billion a year—$37 a person—for state and local taxes. Today state and local taxes have soared to $44 billion, or about $241 for every man, woman and child.

Our quotable notables: "When archaeologists discover the missing arms of Venus De Milo, they will find that she was wearing boxing gloves." — John Barrymore.

Social milestone: For the first time in history, fewer than 10 out of 100 Americans are now farm dwellers.

Education: Several smaller nations have outstripped the United States in the matter of literacy.

Iceland, for example, has no illiteracy among its normal adults, all can read or write.

Hairy history: In 1447 the Irish pushed a law that no man could wear a beard above his lips unless he wanted to pass as an Englishman. The English themselves started the custom of daily shaving around 1660. In Russia, beardless Peter the Great made noblemen pay a special tax if they wore whiskers.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market is celebrating summer's official end by giving the season record high marks. Some of the new peaks for the popular price averages (but not for all individual stocks by any means) represent stock traders' grading of summer's performance. More probably, they doubtless reflect the betting on the prospects for fall and winter.

Bears can cite plenty of warning signals. The bulls haven't been listening. They've heard only the ringing of industrial and retail cash registers — and the growing talk around the board rooms of increasing business, of still higher earnings, and of reviving willingness of investors to put their money on favorite companies and industries.

Some of the problems for the next few months are just that so far — promises. They depend in part on what Congress does about tax cutting and government spending programs, on what consumers do with the increased incomes they're supposed to enjoy—and, in particular, how much of this they channel once more into the stock market.

Beyond that is the question of how real is the thawing of the Cold War which many see in the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, and what effect this might have on defense industries and their suppliers.

But the bulls have been in command in the closing weeks of summer.

The Dow-Jones average of 30 industrial stocks set a new high (737.98) Sept. 5, breaking its previous record (734.91) which had stood since Dec. 13, 1961. It went still higher Sept. 11, and after some dalliance scored again Sept. 19 (743.22) and edged up Friday to a new one (743.60).

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index hit another new high Sept. 20 at 73.30. And the Associated Press index of 60 stocks was at its record, too, 281.5.

Thus the September market was reversing its more often than not course declining after Labor Day as many observers had predicted it might this year.

In the final days of summer the bulls were cheered by their belief that tax rates would be cut, effective in January, on personal and corporate incomes. This would give consumers more money they could spend if they wanted to, and businessmen more money they could invest. Either could mean more business for many corporations listed on the nation's exchanges.

While government economy talk was rife, many felt the prospects were that 1964 would end with total federal, state and local government spending ahead of this year, also benefitting some persons and some companies.

All of this is interpreted by the bulls as assuring that the present upward swing of the business cycle will continue for many more months.

The bullish also have been noting the reports of higher earnings by many corporations and predictions of still better days ahead as sales increase and effects of cost-cutting automation and other operational techniques are felt still more.

Bears stress that stock prices of late have been rising even faster than have earnings and dividends, so that the yield on many stocks bought today is less than it was a year ago.

But the bulls point out that today's yields are still much better than they were during the last major bull market of 1961. And expectations of capital gains on a rising stock market apparently are motivating many traders more than are current yields.

And, finally, the bulls are counting on the generally favorable business prospects and the enthusiasm that swells with a rising market to pull back many of the small investors and market-players who switched to bonds and savings accounts after being burned in the market crash of May and June 1962.

So fall will start out with high hopes. How it will end? Not even your favorite broker can tell you that for sure—nor will he try to.

The success of the logistics of this complicated process is now almost taken for granted. Yet there are still many problems associated with long-term preservation of blood. When out-dated, blood is wasted. Stored blood can be rejected, too, for a variety of other reasons.

Teams of chemists have been trying to produce a blood substitute that might be safely used, quickly available and stored without time limit. These rigid demands were met by the creation of a low molecular dextran solution called LMD.

This substitute for blood has already been used successfully in case of severe shock. No unusual or dangerous side reactions have been associated with the use of LMD.

Pakistan Needle Out for Both U.S., Russia

World Summit Parley
On Disarmament Seen
As Goal of Orientals

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Pakistan appears to have embarked on a calculated program to needle both Washington and Moscow in heartily endorsing a Red Chinese proposal for a world summit conference on disarmament and by increasing trade with the Peking camp.

Both moves, announced Friday, seemed certain to deepen Pakistan's worrisome quarrel with United States, triggered by U.S. aid to India. They also appeared certain to irritate the Soviet Union in Moscow's competition with Peking for Asian support.

President Mohammed Ayub Khan, who once described himself as the staunchest anti-communist ally of the United States in Asia, is angry with Washington because of American aid bolstering India's defenses against Red China. He believes the American weapons in India pose a more dangerous threat to Pakistan in the long and bitter quarrel over Kashmir.

(Weeklong firing by Pakistani and Indian forces in the disputed Lathitilla area on the Assam-East Pakistan front ended Friday with observance of a cease-fire on both sides, official sources in New Delhi said.)

Ayub's government replied favorably Friday to an Aug. 2 letter from Red Chinese Premier Chou En Lai calling for a world summit conference on disarmament and the destruction of nuclear weapons.

It added the suggestion that a new Asian-African meeting be called to start machinery to bring about the world summit.

The reply declares that the exclusion of Red China from the United Nations deprived Peking of "the legitimate right...to participate in negotiations that are in progress" on disarmament in the world organization.

The support for Peking's proposal came one day after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko proposed in the United Nations that the 18 nations on the U.N. disarmament commission hold a summit conference on the same problem. Red China is barred from the U.N. disarmament commission.

Official Pakistani quarters said the government always has supported disarmament and the reply marks no new departure.

But Americans were unlikely to welcome the tone of the reply to Chou. It echoed some of the cliches of Communist propaganda about "general aims of peace-loving states."

In a companion move Pakistan announced a trade agreement with Albania, Peking's only European ally. In terms of trade volume, the pact appeared to have little significance.

But its timing could be regarded as a calculated irritation, particularly against the background of a similar agreement signed with the Red Chinese two weeks ago.

Ohio Arson Case Is Center Of Technical Legal Debate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An arson trial, which attracted little attention outside the Hancock County area originally, now is being regarded with considerable interest far beyond Ohio's borders.

The case involves Royal Robbins, a Fostoria truck driver now of Chicago. He was indicted by the Hancock County grand jury last year on a charge of arson, growing out of an allegation that he set fire to his house in 1961, burning his furniture.

Robbins pleaded innocent, and waived a jury trial. A three-judge panel heard the case in Hancock County Common Pleas Court. Judges Joe M. Moorhead of Findlay and Ferd Zehrens of Napoleon signed a verdict finding Robbins guilty of arson.

But the third judge, Harry Frick of Tiffin, did not sign, and this is the basis for the present broad interest in the case.

After a motion for a new trial was denied, appeal was made to the Third District Court of Appeals which covers 16 counties in that district.

The appeal contended, among other things, that the verdict was not sustained by sufficient evidence because one of the judges refused to join in. Therefore, it was argued, the court could not have been convinced beyond a reasonable doubt of Robbins' guilt.

The appellate court reversed

the Common Pleas Court verdict.

The case of Robbins, who faced from about 1 to 20 years in Ohio Penitentiary, was remanded to Hancock County Common Pleas Court for further proceedings.

That was early in April of this year. Hancock County's prosecutor, Garvey Oxley, at one time called it the first decision in this regard ever rendered in Ohio.

Two months later, Oxley took the case to the state Supreme Court. The high court will hear oral arguments before deciding whether to review it, but as yet has set no date.

Echoes of the case were heard in New York State recently, when an attorney whose client had been convicted by a two-to-one judicial panel vote cited the Ohio appellate court ruling.

His motion to have the conviction—on a charge of impairing the morals of a minor—set aside was denied, but the New York court said in an opinion that the question should be taken to a reviewing court.

"In the absence of any decisions in this state," the New York court said, "we seek guidance from decisions in other states."

If further appellate courts rule that judgments by judicial panels in such cases must be unanimous, a New York paper suggested "thousands of persons" in that state could move to have their convictions set aside.

NO BAD LUCK—There were 13 patients in the Maternity Ward of the hospital in Portland, Ore., on Friday the 13th when Mrs. Casper Custer gave birth to her 13th child, a girl weighing 7 pounds, 7 ounces. The baby has 11 sisters and one brother. He was born on New Year's Day 1960.

Stocks Edge to New Historic High

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market edged to another historic high amid continuing cross currents the past week.

It was the third straight week of advance.

GOV. JOHN REYNOLDS of Wisconsin has cautioned Braves' officials about moving, said he will press for Congressional investigation of franchise shifting.

Cuyahoga College Opens

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga Community College opened today and Dr. Charles E. Chapman, president, said enrollment was 1,800. The newly formed college holds classes at the vacated Brownell Junior High School.

In the week just ended, the market had two sharp moves—a decline Wednesday and an advance Thursday which more than wiped out the Wednesday loss.

The market was still chewing away at resistance in the form of large blocks of stock put up for sale. Analysts noted, with some concern, that the advance of the averages was due to the performance of relatively few stocks.

The Dow Jones average of 60 industrials advanced 3.47 to end the week at a historic closing record of 743.60.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.0 to 281.5—a historic high that was first reached Thursday. The average held unchanged Friday.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index also closed the week at a record peak of 73.30.

The rise in these market indicators was due to the advance of heavily weighed blue chips which are represented in them. The behavior of the entire market however, is reflected by the fact that of 1,505 issues traded, losers outnumbered gainers by 737 to 590.

In the face of a contradiction between such statistics and the performance of the averages, the verdict usually goes in favor of the averages because these represent stocks which have huge amounts of outstanding stock and millions of shareholders, whereas the host of lesser stocks represent a small factor in the market.

The week began with investment buying in the international oils and some frightened selling in tobacco because Wall Street feared the upcoming government report on the health aspects of cigarette smoking would be harsh.

Generally speaking, the business and economic news remained encouraging, although there were some soft spots.

Employees Called Back By Lima Metals Firm

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Employees have been called back to work at the Superior Metal Products plant beginning today. The company closed its doors last Thursday because of what it called dissension among employees and stockholders. Teamsters Union Local 908 filed unfair labor practices charges against the firm and said despite the company's announcement today it would not withdraw its complaint with the National Labor Relations Board.

Pakistan Needle Out for Both U.S., Russia

World Summit Parley On Disarmament Seen As Goal of Orientals

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Pakistan appears to have embarked on a calculated program to needle both Washington and Moscow in heartily endorsing a Red Chinese proposal for a world summit conference on disarmament and by increasing trade with the Peking camp.

Both moves, announced Friday, seemed certain to deepen Pakistan's worrisome quarrel with United States, triggered by U.S. aid to India. They also appeared certain to irritate the Soviet Union in Moscow's competition with Peking for Asian support.

President Mohammed Ayub Khan, who once described himself as the staunchest anti-communist ally of the United States in Asia, is angry with Washington because of American aid bolstering India's defenses against Red China. He believes the American weapons in India pose a more dangerous threat to Pakistan in the long and bitter quarrel over Kashmir.

(Weeklong firing by Pakistani and Indian forces in the disputed Lathitilla area on the Assam-East Pakistan front ended Friday with observance of a cease-fire on both sides, official sources in New Delhi said.)

Ayub's government replied favorably Friday to an Aug. 2 letter from Red Chinese Premier Chou En Lai calling for a world summit conference on disarmament and the destruction of nuclear weapons.

It added the suggestion that a new Asian-African meeting be called to start machinery to bring about the world summit.

The reply declares that the exclusion of Red China from the United Nations deprived Peking of "the legitimate right...to participate in negotiations that are in progress" on disarmament in the world organization.

The support for Peking's proposal came one day after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko proposed in the United Nations that the 18 nations on the U.N. disarmament commission hold a summit conference on the same problem. Red China is barred from the U.N. disarmament commission.

Official Pakistani quarters said the government always has supported disarmament and the reply marks no new departure.

But Americans were unlikely to welcome the tone of the reply to Chou. It echoed some of the cliches of Communist propaganda about "general aims of peace-loving states."

In a companion move Pakistan announced a trade agreement with Albania, Peking's only European ally. In terms of trade volume, the pact appeared to have little significance.

But its timing could be regarded as a calculated irritation, particularly against the background of a similar agreement signed with the Red Chinese two weeks ago.

Taft, Brown To Head Fund Drive for Church

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles Taft of Cincinnati and Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California have been named co-chairmen of a group of prominent Americans who have embarked on a campaign to raise funds to rebuild the bombed 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham, Ala.

Quick Exchange

MORGANFIELD, Ky. (AP) — Tom Stevenson lost 48 feet of fence around his farm, but received a 1954 auto in exchange.

The fence was wrecked when Sam Oliver's car skidded around a curve, splintered the fence, then stopped in a ditch.

Oliver climbed out and handed the keys to Stevenson, explaining, "I'm too old to drive any way."

The 76-year-old former motorist then hitched a ride into town with a state trooper.

Ohio Arson Case Is Center Of Technical Legal Debate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An arson trial, which attracted little attention outside the Hancock County area originally, now is being regarded with considerable interest far beyond Ohio's borders.

The case involves Royal Robbins, a Postoria truck driver now of Chicago. He was indicted by the Hancock County grand jury last year on a charge of arson, growing out of an allegation that he set fire to his house in 1961, burning his furniture.

Robbins pleaded innocent, and waived a jury trial. A three-judge panel heard the case in Hancock County Common Pleas Court. Judges Joe M. Moorhead of Findlay and Ferd Zehrens of Napoleon signed a verdict finding Robbins guilty of arson.

But the third judge, Harry Frick of Tiffin, did not sign, and this is the basis for the present broad interest in the case.

After a motion for a new trial was denied, appeal was made to the Third District Court of Appeals which covers 16 counties in that district.

The appeal contended, among other things, that the verdict was not sustained by sufficient evidence because one of the judges refused to join in. Therefore, it was argued, the court could not have been convinced beyond a reasonable doubt of Robbins' guilt.

The appellate court reversed

the Common Pleas Court verdict. The case of Robbins, who faced from about 1 to 20 years in Ohio Penitentiary, was remanded to Hancock County Common Pleas Court for further proceedings.

That was early in April of this year. Hancock County's prosecutor, Garvey Oxley, at one time called it the first decision in this regard ever rendered in Ohio.

Two months later, Oxley took the case to the state Supreme Court. The high court will hear oral arguments before deciding whether to review it, but as yet has set no date.

If further appellate courts rule that judgments by judicial panels in such cases must be unanimous, a New York paper suggested "thousands of persons" in that state could move to have their convictions set aside.

MRS. GEORGE HANEY

Miss Dorothy Bowling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowling, Route 2, Circleville, became the bride of Mr. George Haney, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Haney of Logan, 4:30 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church.

The Rev. Paul I. Wachs performed the single ring ceremony before an altar decorated with a sunburst arrangement of white gladioli, Fuji mums and huckleberry foliage encircled by lighted tapers, woodwardia trees and ferns. The pews were marked with white satin bows, huckleberry foliage and lighted tapers.

Miss Ruth B. Miller, Springfield, was organist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of English net applied with sprays of reembody Alencon lace and seed pearls fashioned with a Sabrina neckline enhanced with lace petal motifs. The snug midriff of peau de soie was accented in back with a rose centered bow and the skirt swept into a chapel train with lace scalloping edging the hemline. A shell of matching Alencon lace and seed pearls held her bouffant veil of imported English silk illusion and she carried a cluster of three large white orchids.

Miss Joanne Hawkes, Circleville, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Frank Bowling Jr., Circleville and Mrs. George Bowling, Ann Arbor, Mich., both sisters-in-law of the bride. They wore identical afternoon length dresses of turquoise silk organza over taffeta fashioned with Sabrina necklines and bouffant skirts. Matching Eugenia hats held their veils and they carried cascade bouquets of yellow sweetheart roses centered with yellow Fuji mums.

Miss Barbara Leonard, Logan, niece of the bridegroom, lighted the tapers.

Dr. Albert Leonard, Logan, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Frank Bowling Jr., brother of the bride, and Mr. Richard Clinton, both of Circleville, Mr. George Bowling, Ann Arbor, Mich., brother of the bride and Mr. Clifford Bolton, Ashland, Ky.

Mrs. Bowling chose for her daughter's wedding a celadon green lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of Phalaenopsis orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a pale blue silk and wool dress with matching accessories and a corsage of Eucharis lilies.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents which was decorated throughout with yellow sweetheart roses. A buffet supper was served under a large white tent in the yard. A three tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table. And, "Tell Eli to keep his hands off you or I'll fix him." (I don't even know an "Eli".)

When I wake him up and ask him what he is talking about, he tells me that a man is not responsible for what he says in his sleep. Do you think he is stepping out of me?

DEAR "LISTENING": Keep listening.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old Boy Scout. My Scoutmaster, who is almost 30, tells us to call him by his first name, Joe, because he feels old when someone calls him Mr. Jones. My father insists that I call him Mr. Jones out of respect for my elders. All the other boys call him Joe and their parents don't seem to mind. I'd like to call him Joe, too, but I want to please my father. What should I call him?

A STAR SCOUT
DEAR SCOUT: Please your father, and call him Mr. Jones.

DEAR ABBY: I went with a friend to an antique shop and we both found several items we wanted to buy. I laid my purchase aside on the counter while I looked for more. My friend chose to carry hers around with her. She saw an item that interested her, but she didn't have a free hand, so she asked me to pick up the item so she could see the price on the underside. In doing this I knocked over and broke the item next to it. I paid the store owner for the broken item. When we came out of the store I found an over-parking ticket on my car. While driving this friend home she expressed regret over my bad luck that day, but she didn't offer to help me pay for the broken item or the parking ticket. (The total involved was only $4.50). It would relieve me greatly to tell her how I feel. Would you? Or am I wrong?

UNDECIDED
DEAR UNDECIDED: I wouldn't mention it to her. She is thoughtless, insensitive or both. (Maybe she's just cheap!) In any case, it's a grave mistake to expect others to do what we would do in like circumstances.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HAVING OUR PROBLEMS IN PAKLAND": The best advice I can offer comes from a wise old Ojibway Indian Chief. While counseling a newly-wed couple who were constantly on the war path, he said, "Speak not loudly to each other unless the teepee is on fire."

Bass, Ankrom Get Grid Game Honors

Tiger of the week honors go to Dave Bass and Jeff Ankrom for their play in Friday's game with Reynoldsburg.

Coach Paul Starr said his staff was a little surprised with results when they graded the movies. He noted that Bass pulled only one error, on a pitchout.

The rest of the time he carried out his assignments very well, according to the Tiger mentor. Bass, who alternates with Tom Tootle at quarterback, sees most of his action in the defensive backfield as safety.

Hodge Dade, whose running was termed sensational by Starr, was a close second behind Bass for the top Tiger back. However, the sophomore flash failed to carry out his fakes and blocking assignments in some instances, the coach said.

"ANKROM may be a find," Starr reported describing his junior tackle. "He has lacked some zip in practice, but he did a real good job for us Friday."

Second lineman in the grading was center John Hatcher.

Most of the grades were mediocre, according to Starr. Some of the players showed improvement, but on the other hand several glaring errors were noted.

GARY BETTS was the leading tackler in the Reynoldsburg fracas. He was credited with seven tackles and six assists. He also had two Tiger heads, both on kick-off tackles.

Dade had two Tiger heads, one on a kick-off tackle and another on a recovered fumble. Other players with two Tiger heads were Bruce Horn and Junior Tootle. The latter, a guard, was credited with a solid performance by the coaching staff.

Bob Purcell had one Tiger head and Mick Tomlinson one.

Tom Copland, guard and defensive linebacker, was second in the tackle department. The staff noted Copland looked much better in Friday's tilt than in the two previous games.

The Tigers came out of the game with no bad injuries.

Dade fell on his shoulder late in the game but it was only bruised badly. Starr reported it should not bother him even in practice this week.

COPLAND went to the sidelines for a few minutes with a pinched shoulder nerve but was right back in the game.

Chet Iery, who has missed the first three games with a cracked carpal bone in his wrist has been working out with the team recently and should be ready for action Friday if needed.

The other injury sidelining a Tiger was a similar one suffered by Jim Starkey. He will be out

Everything's Going Fine, Brown Says

DALLAS (AP) — "Everything's been going just fine," said Jim Brown after a performance in which he ran for two long touchdowns and dashed 22 yards—five yards short of his own National Football League record for rushing in a single game.

"I just hope things keep going this way," the big back said after the Cleveland Browns defeated the Dallas Cowboys, 41-24, Sunday. Brown's touchdown jaunts went 71 and 62 yards.

"Jim's running was terrific," said Coach Blanton Collier. "We wanted to get the ball and get Jim back in the game. We just couldn't."

The line charge was great. Those boys up front played a great game."

Brown's first touchdown came on a play in which the opposition appeared to relax when he seemed to be stopped after a three-yard gain. He shook loose and went 71 yards.

The 62-yard touchdown came in the last quarter with the Cowboys trailing by 10 points.

The victory gave the Browns a share of the Eastern Division lead with St. Louis. Both are 2-0.

Frank Ryan hit 11 of 18 passes for 188 yards. Two of the passes were to Gary Collins for touchdowns of 17 yards and 4 yards.

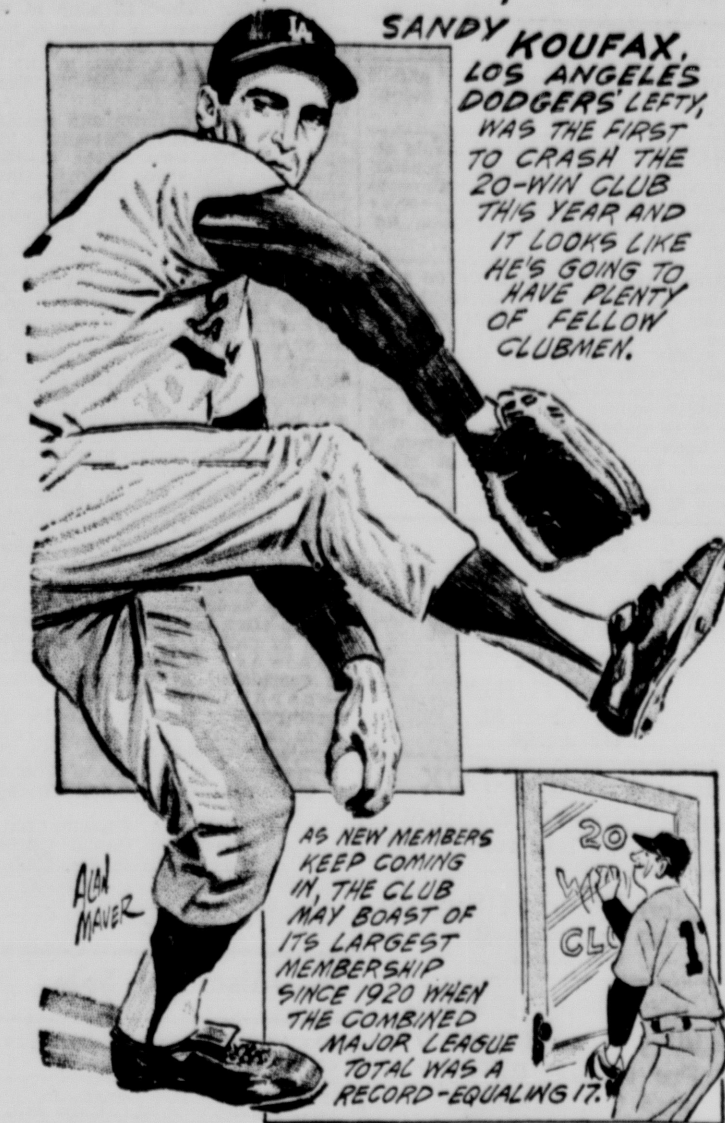

Playing in steaming heat, Ryan also ran seven yards for the second touchdown.

Lou Groza kicked field goals of 15 and 32 yards and added five extra points for 11 points for the day.

Tribe Sets Sights On First Division

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians can have only one goal left in the waning American League season: a first division berth.

The Tribe moved to within 1½ games of fifth-place Detroit by edging the Los Angeles Angels in a doubleheader Sunday, 5-3 and 2-1 in 11 innings.

In the opener, Fred Whitfield knocked in a pair of runs, Vic Davalillo cracked three of Cleveland's six hits and Tommy Agee hit his first homer in the majors as Jack Kralick struggled to his 13th triumph of the season. He's also lost 13.

Mid-Am Teams Take Beatings

OU, Miami Unable To Win Openers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The first big football Saturday in Ohio has come and gone—but the Mid-American Conference would just as soon forget about it.

And with good reason, too. Five of the loop's seven teams dropped their openers, making it one of the worst inaugurations for the MAC in recent years.

Miami, Ohio University, Toledo, Marshall and Western Michigan all took it on the chin. Kent State, with an open date, survived the holocaust. None of them were conference games.

Only Bowling Green, shooting for a third straight conference championship, came through in fine fashion.

Marshall bowed to Morehead State, 19-6. Western Michigan fell to Wisconsin, 41-0. Xavier turned back Miami, 21-12. Buffalo tripped Ohio U., 7-0, and Dayton toppled Toledo, 22-19.

In traditional championship style, Bowling Green pushed over 15 points in the final quarter to defeat Detroit, 27-14. The victory marked the ninth straight successful opener for Head Coach Doyt Perry and pushed his non-conference record to 24-1.

Once-beaten Xavier turned in the big surprise against highly touted Miami. The Muskies tallied 21 points in a wild fourth period finish after the Redskins had opened up a two-touchdown advantage at intermission.

Ohio U., which rapped Buffalo 41-6 last season, had a bad case of fumbles and it proved the difference. The Bobcats dominated the contest—21-11 edge in first downs and 305 to 172-yard advantage to ground gaining—but couldn't reach paydirt.

In other big ones, Cincinnati trounced Drake, 28-0; Wittenberg's classy Ohio Conference titleholders slipped by tough Baldwin-Wallace, 21-7; rugged Akron blanked Muskingum, 13-0; and Ashland turned back Wooster, 13-0.

The day's best play was truned in by Ashland's Jim Colwell. He intercepted a pass on Wooster's goal line and dashed 100 yards for one of the Eagles' two scores. Ashland, shut out 14 times in 23 previous meetings with Wooster, stopped the Scots for the first time since 1930.

In some of the top attractions this Saturday, Ohio State opens at home against Texas A & M, Cincinnati faces rugged Army, Toledo meets Villanova, Marshall tangles with Miami in the MAC opener and high-scoring Otterbein challenges Wittenberg.

Pirates Delay Final Victory For Dodgers

Only One More Win Needed by Bums To Clinch NL Pennant

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Strong pitching has been the Los Angeles Dodgers' big weapon all season.

They saw more of the same Sunday—but they'd just as soon forget it. It was the other fellow's and it was painful, keeping the Dodgers from putting the official clincher on the National League pennant.

Pittsburgh's Bob Veale and Elroy Face held the Dodgers away from the elusive flag with a two-man three-hit effort in the Pirates' 4-0 victory. The Dodgers took it right down to the final swings loading the bases with one out in the bottom of the ninth inning with hot-hitting Tommy Davis and slugger Frank Howard coming up.

But Face got both on popups—and after a string of five triumphs that had carried them to the threshold of the throne room, the Dodgers' magic touch had failed.

Cincinnati had paved the way for the Dodgers by dealing St. Louis' slumping Cardinals their fifth straight loss, 5-2, and reducing the magic number to one. It's still one—meaning a Dodger victory or another Card loss before the flag flies at Chavez Ravine.

Actually, the pennant could go to the Dodgers before they swing another bat. The Cards, 5½ games behind with five to go, next play at Chicago on Tuesday afternoon and the Dodgers don't resume action until Tuesday night, when they open a three-game set at home against New York's last-place Mets.

While the Dodgers and Cards were bowing, the San Francisco Giants were pounding the Mets. Willie McCovey paced the 13-4 romp with three consecutive homers, taking over the NL lead at 43, and batting across five runs.

Also in the NL—the Chicago Cubs pushed across six runs in the first three innings and went on to a 7-3 decision over Milwaukee; and Joe Morgan's run-producing single delivered the winner as Houston scored twice in the last of the ninth and edged Philadelphia 2-1.

The New York Yankees, with the American League title stashed away, sharpened up their young left-handed ace, Al Downing, for a World Series start in a 4-3 squeaker over Kansas City. Joe Pepitone struck the big blow for the Yanks, a two-run homer in the sixth inning, after they had touched loser Dave Wickersham for two unearned runs in the fifth.

Downing, now 13-4 since being promoted from the minors in June, spaced nine hits, did not walk a man and struck out six in his 10th complete game.

Minnesota's mighty Twins belted three more home runs and Camillo Pascual became a 20-game winner for the second year in a row in a 6-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Harmon Killebrew's 45th homer, Jimmie Hall's 33rd and George Banks' third pushed Minnesota's season total to 224—second highest in big league history. The Yanks' 240 in 1961 is the record.

In other AL action—homers by Ron Hansen and Floyd Robinson carried the Chicago White Sox over Detroit 3-2; Cleveland swept the Los Angeles Angels, winning the opener 5-3 and taking the second game 2-1 in 11 innings on Pedro Ramos' six-hit pitching and John Romano's decisive pinch single; and Washington gained a split with Baltimore, gaining a 4-2 victory in the second game after losing to the Orioles 6-3.

Brown May Run Mile in Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At this rate, Jimmy Brown is going to run the mile in nine weeks.

The incredible fullback of the Cleveland Browns had his second field day in a row Sunday, as the Browns kept their National Football League record unblemished, 41-24 over the disappointing Dallas Cowboys.

Brown ran for 232 yards, including touchdown runs of 71 and 62. With the season just two weeks old, Brown now has 394 yards, an average of 197 a game. At that pace, he will pass the mile mark in nine games.

After the full weekend slate, the Browns were one of only three teams with a 2-0 record in the NFL. The surprising St. Louis Cardinals and the tough Chicago Bears were the others.

The Cardinals stayed even with the Browns in the Eastern Conference by battling back to a 28-24 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Bears took over the top spot in the West with a 28-7 manhandling of the Minnesota Vikings.

In other NFL games, Green Bay beat Detroit 31-10, Pittsburgh whipped the New York Giants 31-0 and Baltimore knocked off San Francisco 20-14. Washington whipped the Los Angeles Rams 37-14 Saturday night.

In the American Football League, Boston beat Oakland 20-14, the New York Jets trimmed Houston 24-17 and Kansas City and Buffalo played to a 27-27 tie.

The Packers rebounded from their opening defeat by smothering the Lions. Halfback Tom Moore, the replacement for suspended Paul Hornung, broke the game open with a pair of touchdowns including one for 77 yards, and Jim Taylor carried 22 times for 82 yards.

The Steelers made their mark 1-0-1 as they scored their first shutout over the Giants since they came in the league 31 seasons ago. John Henry Johnson and Dick Hoak did the heavy duty running as the Steelers stuck to the ground. The Giants missed injured quarterback Y. A. Tittle, and couldn't get started.

John Unitas had a great day for the Colts, as the 49ers continued their winless ways. San Francisco coach Red Hickey said, "It's tough each week to say how good the other quarterback was—we make them look good."

The Los Angeles Rams also remained one of the 0-2 teams along with the 49ers and Dallas.

The Redskins came from a 14-12 deficit with a 77-yard third quarter pass play from Norm Snead to Dick James and added 17 points in the last quarter.

Some important information for every man who will need a new truck within the next 12 months

New Chevrolets are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time. Here are some of the things that have been done to give you more value for practically the same investment.

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. You get a much better ride in every size Chevrolet truck today than you used to.

Conventional half-and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable pitch coils in the rear. Variable pitch coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leaf springs. This variable-rate leaf-type suspension automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet has been building truck engines since 1918 but never has it been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel Chevrolet truck engines—fours, sixes, V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. Formerly used on heavier trucks only, this type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain, to stand up under stress. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

There are also the Corvair 95 vans with the air-cooled engine in the rear. And the Corvair 95 Rampside with its exclusive side-loading feature. These trucks have more power this year.

In the medium- and heavy-duty area there are stakes, tilt cabs, low-cab-forward models and cab-and-chassis units to suit almost any requirement—including school bus bodies of up to 66-passenger capacity. Dump truck operators now can order a Chevrolet tandem with either gasoline or diesel power.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet Dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Quality trucks always cost less!

for another week or two.

The Friday opponent for the Tigers is Pleasant View. It will be the first South Central Ohio League game for both teams.

Pleasant View is inexperienced, according to the Tiger scouting report and is prone to make a few mistakes. However, the Panthers have a fullback with good speed and a quarterback who is a good runner.

The day's best play was turned in by Ashland's Jim Colwell. He intercepted a pass on Wooster's goal line and dashed 100 yards for one of the Eagles' two scores.

Ashland, shut out 14 times in 23 previous meetings with Wooster, stopped the Scots for the first time since 1930.

In some of the top attractions this Saturday, Ohio State opens at home against Texas A & M, Cincinnati faces rugged Army, Toledo meets Villanova, Marshall tangles with Miami in the MAC opener and high-scoring Otterbein challenges Wittenberg.

Tribe Sets Sights On First Division

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians can have only one goal left in the waning American League season: a first division berth.

The Tribe moved to within 1½ games of fifth-place Detroit by edging the Los Angeles Angels in a doubleheader Sunday, 5-3 and 2-1 in 11 innings.

In the opener, Fred Whitfield knocked in a pair of runs, Vic Davalillo cracked three of Cleveland's six hits and Tommy Agee hit his first homer in the majors as Jack Kralick struggled to his 13th triumph of the season. He's also lost 13.

Pirates Delay Final Victory For Dodgers

Only One More Win Needed by Bums To Clinch NL Pennant

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Strong pitching has been the Los Angeles Dodgers' big weapon all season.

They saw more of the same Sunday—but they'd just as soon forget it. It was the other fellow's and it was painful, keeping the Dodgers from putting the official clincher on the National League pennant.

Pittsburgh's Bob Veale and Elroy Face held the Dodgers away from the elusive flag with a two-man three-hit effort in the Pirates' 4-0 victory. The Dodgers took it right down to the final swings loading the bases with one out in the bottom of the ninth inning with hot-hitting Tommy Davis and slugger Frank Howard coming up.

But Face got both on popups—and after a string of five triumphs that had carried them to the threshold of the throne room, the Dodgers' magic touch had failed.

Cincinnati had paved the way for the Dodgers by dealing St. Louis' slumping Cardinals their fifth straight loss, 5-2, and reducing the magic number to one. It's still one—meaning a Dodger victory or another Card loss before the flag flies at Chavez Ravine.

Actually, the pennant could go to the Dodgers before they swing another bat. The Cards, 5½ games behind with five to go, next play at Chicago on Tuesday afternoon and the Dodgers don't resume action until Tuesday night, when they open a three-game set at home against New York's last-place Mets.

While the Dodgers and Cards were bowing, the San Francisco Giants were pounding the Mets Willie McCovey paced the 13-4 romp with three consecutive homers, taking over the NL lead at 43, and batting across five runs.

Also in the NL—the Chicago Cubs pushed across six runs in the first three innings and went on to a 7-3 decision over Milwaukee; and Joe Morgan's run-producing single delivered the winner as Houston scored twice in the last of the ninth and edged Philadelphia 2-1.

The American League title stashed away, sharpened up their young left-handed ace, Al Downing, for a World Series start in a 4-3 squeaker over Kansas City. Joe Pepitone struck the big blow for the Yanks, a two-run homer in the sixth inning, after they had touched loser Dave Wickenscham for two unearned runs in the fifth.

Downing, now 13-4 since being promoted from the minors in June spaced nine hits, did not walk a man and struck out six in his 10th complete game.

Minnesota's mighty Twins belted three more home runs and Camillo Pascual became a 20-game winner for the second year in a row in a 6-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Harmon Killebrew's 45th homer, Jimmie Hall's 33rd and George Banks' third pushed Minnesota's season total to 224—second highest in big league history. The Yanks' 240 in 1961 is the record.

In other AL action—homers by Ron Hansen and Floyd Robinson carried the Chicago White Sox over Detroit 3-2; Cleveland swept the Los Angeles Angels, winning the opener 5-3 and taking the second game 2-1 in 11 innings on Pedro Ramos' six-hit pitching and John Romano's decisive pinch single; and Washington gained a split with Baltimore, gaining a 4-2 victory in the second game after losing to the Orioles 6-3.

Brown May Run Mile in Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At this rate, Jimmy Brown is going to run the mile in nine weeks.

The incredible fullback of the Cleveland Browns had his second field day in a row Sunday, as the Browns kept their National Football League record unblemished, 41-24 over the disappointing Dallas Cowboys.

Brown ran for 232 yards, including touchdown runs of 71 and 62. With the season just two weeks old, Brown now has 394 yards, an average of 197 a game. At that pace, he will pass the mile mark in nine games.

After the full weekend slate, the Browns were one of only three teams with a 2-0 record in the NFL. The surprising St. Louis Cardinals and the tough Chicago Bears were the others.

The Cardinals stayed even with the Browns in the Eastern Conference by battling back to a 28-24 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Bears took over the top spot in the West with a 28-7 manhandling of the Minnesota Vikings.

In other NFL games, Green Bay beat Detroit 31-10. Pittsburgh whipped the New York Giants 31-0 and Baltimore knocked off San Francisco 20-14. Washington whipped the Los Angeles Rams 37-14 Saturday night.

In the American Football League, Boston beat Oakland 20-14, the New York Jets trimmed Houston 24-17 and Kansas City and Buffalo played to a 27-27 tie.

The Packers rebounded from their opening defeat by smothering the Lions. Halfback Tom Moore, the replacement for suspended Paul Hornung, broke the game open with a pair of touchdown runs including one for 77 yards, and Jim Taylor carried 22 times for 82 yards.

The Steelers made their mark 10-1 as they scored their first shutout over the Giants since they came in the league 31 seasons ago. John Henry Johnson and Dick Hoak did the heavy duty running as the Steelers stuck to the ground. The Giants missed injured quarterback Y. A. Title, and couldn't get started.

John Unitas had a great day for the Colts, as the '49ers continued their winless ways. San Francisco coach Red Hickey said, "It's tough each week to say how good the other quarterback was—we make them look good."

The 10-0 Angeles Rams also remained one of the 0-2 teams along with the 49ers and Dallas.

The Redskins came from a 14-17 deficit with a 77-yard third quarter pass play from Norm Snead to Dick James and added 17 points in the last quarter.

NO DAMPENED SPIRITS—Although the day was wet and her team lost, this University of Florida cheerleader still smiles her best as she uses a megaphone to protect her hair-do during game with Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

Some important information for every man who will need a new truck within the next 12 months

New Chevrolets are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time. Here are some of the things that have been done to give you more value for practically the same investment.

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet trucks and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. You get a much better ride in every size Chevrolet truck today than you used to.

Conventional half and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable pitch coils in the rear. Variable pitch coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leaf springs. This variable-rate leaf-type suspension automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

The right engine. Chevrolet has been building truck engines since 1918 but never has it been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel Chevrolet truck engines—fours, sixes, V8s.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. Formerly used on heavier trucks only, this type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain, to stand up under stress. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

There are also the Corvair 95 vans with the air-cooled engine in the rear. And the Corvair 95 Rampside with its exclusive side-loading feature. These trucks have more power this year.

In the medium- and heavy-duty area there are stakes, tilt cabs, low-cab-forward models and cab-and-chassis units to suit almost any requirement—including school bus bodies of up to 66-passenger capacity.

Dump truck operators now can order a Chevrolet tandem with either gasoline or diesel power.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet Dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Quality trucks always cost less!

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Four new television programs and three specials bid for the viewing public's attention over the weekend.
Most imposing was a taped CBS adaptation of Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" starring Ingrid Bergman on Friday night. After a week dedicated to contemplating such dreary new concoctions as "Harry's Girls" and "The Outer Limits," the prospect of a meaningful theater classic in such competent hands as Miss Bergman, Ralph Richardson, Michael Redgrave and Trevor Howard was as appetizing as steak after a long diet of applesauce.

Earlier on Friday evening ABC presented its completely changed "77 Sunset Strip" in which Efrem Zimbalist Jr. has been remodeled into a Sam Spade-type private eye. The first part of a five-part episode had Zimbalist wandering vaguely among a large number of unrelated characters. It was very dull.

"Burke's Law," another ABC series, also was a trite mystery sugarcoated with gimmicks. Gene Barry plays a millionaire cop who rides in a chauffeur-driven limousine in this Friday night entry and spends almost as much time with the ladies as chasing wrongdoers. Despite the gimmicks, the show never got out of a well-worn television rut.

Jerry Lewis presided nervously over the premiere of his new two-hour live ABC show on Saturday night. He complained that he has been asked repeatedly how he planned to fill two hours every week.

After his first very ragged show, in which comedy was notable by its absence, the question has still to be answered. However the mere fact that the program was live gave it a nice quality of unpredictability which could pay dividends if and when the show settles down.

NBC's "Bill Dana Show" came into sight Sunday night, with Bill playing familiar Jose Jimenez now a hotel bellhop. The comedy, at best, was a string of mild two-line jokes based on Jose's problems with the English language—hardly enough to keep a show rolling for a season or even for a half hour.

Launching of new shows continues. Tonight belongs to CBS' "East Side, West Side," a dramatic series about a social worker starring George C. Scott. Earlier there is a variety hour, "Opening Night," with a number of CBS stars performing. CBS will be busy from 9 through 11 p.m. with the two shows.

Cardinals Find Reds Spoilsports

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds may not have clinched the National League pennant for the Los Angeles Dodgers, but when the shouting is over the St. Louis Cardinals will be able to put the spoilsport tag on them as well as on anyone.
The Reds beat the Cardinals, 5-2, for the second straight time Sunday for the rapidly slipping challengers' fifth straight loss. The Cardinals had lost three to the Dodgers, who now lead by 5½ games, before coming to Cincinnati.

BRANCH RICKEY, Cardinals' senior player consultant, is anything but happy as he watches his Redbirds go down to defeat in big Dodger series in St. Louis.

The Reds won Sunday's game on unearned runs. Curt Simmons and Joe Nuxhall (14-8) matched left-handed pitches most of the way.

Pennsy Driver Wins Sports Car Championship
MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Bob Holbert of Warrington, Pa., driving a cobra, captured the 70-lap production race in the National Production Sports Car Championship at the Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course Sunday.

Ken Miles of El Monte, Calif., who finished second to Holbert won the day's main event, a 70-lap for modified cars. In the 25-lap formula junior event, Reed Fjelle Jr., of Falls Church, Va., was first and Chuck Dietrich of Sandusky, Ohio, was runnerup.

ALL ALONE AND FEELING BLUE—Casey Stengel is all alone, to be sure, but he probably isn't feeling blue for he should be happy to leave the old Polo Grounds where his Mets haven't had much success. The Mets will play in the new Shea stadium next year.

Ringer Leads Oklahoma '11' In Bid To Regain Grid Fame

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Of course Oklahoma won. What would you expect? After all, they had a Ringer playing quarterback. Mike Ringer, no illegal import but a hometown product from Pauls Valley, Okla., passed for one touchdown and sneaked over for another in the Sooners' opening bid to regain their lost football glory.

Ringer is the first sophomore ever to start at quarterback for some of which dominated the national college football scene a decade ago.

Wilkinson said in a pre-season analysis that Ringer's ability to fill the shoes of the departed Monte Deere would be one of the "two principal factors determining the success of our team." The other big factor was defense.

The defense, less than spectacular in the first half as Clemson took a 14-7 lead, came to life after intermission and scored the go-ahead touchdown when tackle John Flynn blocked a Clemson punt and the Sooners recovered in the end zone.

Ringer, who showed a steady, reliable hand at quarter, contributed to the next two touchdowns and the Sooners, ranked fourth in The Associated Press' pre-season poll, had a 31-14 victory.

The performances of Ringer and the defense apparently answered Wilkinson's needs and served as a warm-up for their important clash with defending national champion Southern California this weekend in the television game of the week.

The Rose Bowl champions were lackluster and less than impressive in a 14-0 decision in the mud at Colorado. The Trojans were picked as the team to beat again this season, but their top ranking could be in jeopardy.

Quarterbacks generally dominated proceedings on college football's first full Saturday.

Navy's Roger Staubach hero of last year's Army game, led the ninth-ranked Middies to a 51-7 rout of West Virginia while his Air Force counterpart, Terry Isaacson, led the Falcons on a dramatic, last-pass, 91-yard touchdown march that upset 10th-ranked Washington 30-7 in the television game of the day.

Staubach completed 17 of 22 passes for 171 yards and one touchdown in the rout of the massive Mountaineers, while Isaacson completed seven of eight passes in the march against Washington and bolted over from the seven for the winning touchdown.

Tom Atyers, quarterback for Northwestern's sixth-ranked Wild cats, completed 10 of 16 passes, one for a touchdown and two to set up scores in the 23-13 victory over Missouri.

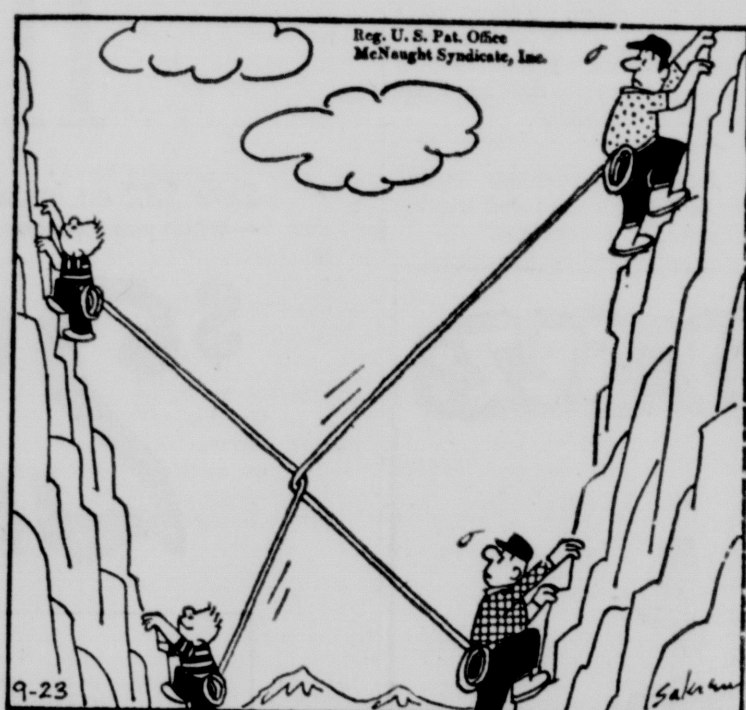

The big upset, however, came as the defense of little Memphis State, which is making a bid for the big time, held second-ranked Mississippi to a scoreless tie. Third-ranked Alabama rolled over Georgia 32-17.

Among the other ranked teams, No. 7 Wisconsin blasted Western Michigan 41-0, No. 8 Arkansas blanked Oklahoma State 21-0 and No. 5 Texas beat Tulane 21-0 Friday.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Four new television programs and three specials bid for the viewing public's attention over the weekend.

Most imposing was a taped CBS adaptation of Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" starring Ingrid Bergman on Friday night. After a week dedicated to contemplating such dreary new concoctions as "Harry's Girls" and "The Outer Limits," the prospect of a meaningful theater classic in such competent hands as Miss Bergman, Ralph Richardson, Michael Redgrave and Trevor Howard was as appetizing as steak after a long diet of apoplexy.

Earlier on Friday evening ABC presented its completely changed "77 Sunset Strip" in which Eren Zimbalist Jr. has been remodeled into a Sam Spade-type private eye. The first part of a five-part episode had Zimbalist wandering vaguely among a large number of unrelated characters. It was very dull.

"Burke's Law," another ABC series, also was a trite mystery sugared with gimmicks. Gene Barry plays a millionaire cop who rides in a chauffeur-driven limousine in this Friday night entry and spends almost as much time with the ladies as chasing wrongdoers. Despite the gimmicks, the show never got out of a well-worn television rut.

Jerry Lewis presided nervously over the premiere of his new two-hour live ABC show on Saturday night. He complained that he has been asked repeatedly how he planned to fill two hours every week.

After his first very ragged show, in which comedy was notable by its absence, the question has still to be answered. However the mere fact that the program was live gave it a nice quality of unpredictability which could pay dividends if and when the show settles down.

NBC's "Bill Dana Show" came into sight Sunday night, with Bill playing familiar Jose Jimenez now a hotel bellhop. The comedy, at best, was a string of mild two-line jokes based on Jose's problems with the English language—hardly enough to keep a show rolling for a season or even for a half hour.

Launching of new shows continues. Tonight belongs to CBS' "East Side, West Side," a dramatic series about a social worker starring George C. Scott. Earlier there is a variety hour, "Opening Night," with a number of CBS stars performing. CBS will be busy from 9 through 11 p.m. with the two shows.

Cardinals Find Reds Spoilsports

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds may not have clinched the National League pennant for the Los Angeles Dodgers, but when the shouting is over the St. Louis Cardinals will be able to put the spoilsport tag on them as well as on anyone.

The Reds beat the Cardinals, 5-2, for the second straight time Sunday for the rapidly slipping challengers' fifth straight loss. The Cardinals had lost three to the Dodgers, who now lead by 5½ games, before coming to Cincinnati.

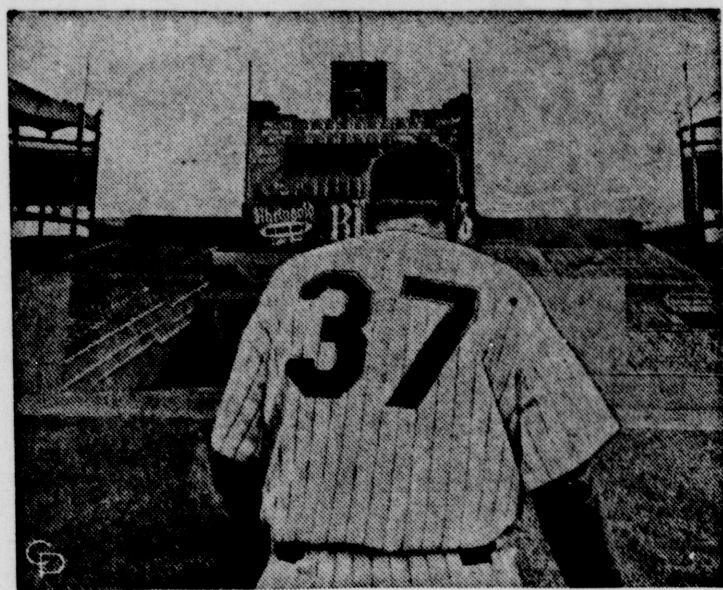

BRANCH RICKEY, Cardinals senior player consultant, is anything but happy as he watches his Redbirds go down to defeat in big Dodger series in St. Louis.

The Reds won Sunday's game on unearned runs. Curt Simmons and Joe Nuxhall (14-8) matched left-handed pitches most of the way.

Pennsy Driver Wins Sports Car Championship
MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Bob Holbert of Warrington, Pa., driving a cobra, captured the 70-lap production race in the National Production Sports Car Championship at the Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course Sunday.

Ken Miles of El Monte, Calif., who finished second to Holbert won the day's main event, a 70-lap for modified cars. In the 25-lap formula junior event, Reed Follo Jr., of Falls Church, Va., was first and Chuck Dietrich of Sandusky, Ohio, was runnerup.

ALL ALONE AND FEELING BLUE—Casey Stengel is all alone, to be sure, but he probably isn't feeling blue for he should be happy to leave the old Polo Grounds where his Mets haven't had much success. The Mets will play in the new Shea stadium next year.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

TAX CUT: A Republican congressman says President Kennedy's $11 billion tax cut proposal is designed to lead the nation down the road to a planned deficit spending economy.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis charged in a radio-television talk that "the President's actions, if not his words, demonstrate beyond doubt that he is advancing a new and untried fiscal theory for the United States, the theory of planned deficits."

The Missouriian's speech Saturday night was part of a continuing Republican barrage against passage of the tax cut unless Congress at the same time clamps a lid on federal spending.

CIVIL RIGHTS: Sen. Kenneth B. Keating says an on-the-spot hearing in Birmingham, Ala., scene of 21 racial bombings in recent years—would help convince "the doubting Thomases" in the Senate of the urgency for civil rights legislation.

The New York Republican said Sunday in a taped radio-television broadcast for New York stations that such a hearing should be made with "proper precautions" and "in good faith" by the Senate Judiciary Committee or its Constitutional Rights subcommittee.

CRIME: Authorities say ex-mobster Joseph Valachi is nursing a seething rage against his former underworld pals and can hardly wait to testify against them in a Senate hearing which starts Wednesday.

The Justice Department will be responsible for security precautions in the crowded public hearing room during the appearance of Valachi, who reportedly has a $100,000 underworld price on his head for spilling the secrets of a national crime organization called Cosa Nostra.

CANADA-TRADE: Canada plans to help solve its international trade deficit by cutting down imports of U.S. auto parts.

Canadian officials informed the United States at an economic conference here that it hopes to create about 60,000 jobs in Canada by expanding auto parts production.

Canada now imports about 90 per cent of its auto parts from the United States.

At Least 5 Ohio Cities See Silent Racial Demonstrations

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Several thousand Negroes and whites participated in silent demonstrations in at least five cities in Ohio Sunday in memory of four Negro children killed in a church bombing in Birmingham, Ala., last week.

More than 400 persons marched silently down the main street of Yellow Springs wearing black armbands. Church bells tolled as they walked a mile to the Municipal Building for a memorial service.

In Columbus Gov. James A. Rhodes, who had declared Sunday a day of mourning for the bombing, and his family attended church services and prayed "for those who have lost their lives in the struggle to make America a free and unfettered country for all our citizens."

The flag at the Governor's Mansion was flown at half staff. Some 700 persons conducted a silent march of about a mile in the capital city and similar demonstrations were reported in Dayton and Middletown.

In Cincinnati some 1,000, rallied by the Congress of Racial Equality, marched quietly to downtown Fountain Square and stood for 10 minutes with heads bowed in silent mourning.

The mourners, predominantly Negro, sang "We Shall Overcome," then listened to a brief address by the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, Negro Cincinnati pastor and president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights.

In Yellow Springs, James E. Fain, editor of the Dayton Daily News, told the demonstrators that "the real emancipation has not yet taken place in this country."

Fain, a former Atlanta newspaperman, said the significance of the "racial revolt of 1963 is not in the drama in Jackson or Birmingham. The efforts of good people throughout the country to bring about a racial democracy is more important."

There were calls for a "non-violent uprising" and a "massive nationwide campaign of civil disobedience" to protest what one speaker called "the last crime against the spirit of brotherhood—the senseless slaughter of the children."

The largest demonstrations were held in New York City and Washington.

In Shreveport, La., police riot squads and mounted sheriff's deputies broke up an attempt by 1,000 Negroes to hold a memorial parade. That was followed by a brief clash between Negroes and police outside a church. A group of prominent Americans, headed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California and Charles Taft of Cincinnati, announced formation of "America's Conscience Fund" to rebuild the bombed 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham.

Four of the Negro children died in that bombing a week ago Sunday. Two Negro boys were shot to death in separate incidents that day. Funeral services for the boys were held Sunday.

"There should be no malice in anyone's heart toward anyone else," said a Negro minister, the Rev. J. R. Hicks, at one funeral. "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away."

Accused Drunk Driver Causes Injury to 10

CLEVELAND (AP)—A car going west traveled three miles in an eastbound lane of Memorial Shoreway and caused a series of accidents in which six cars were damaged and 10 persons shaken up Sunday.

Bratenahl police said Joseph P. Judge Jr., 38, of Wickliffe got into the wrong lane in Euclid. At East 100th Street Judge's auto sidwiped a car driven by David H. Bottesch, 23, of Garfield Heights, police said. Judge's car careened onto the divider and off again and collided with an auto driven by Airman L.C. Elmer Rogers, 21, of Bunker Hill Air Force Base, Ind.

Three other cars were involved in a chain collision at East 99th Street when one driver slammed on his brakes when he saw Judge's car headed toward him in an adjacent lane.

Judge's car finally stopped in Bratenahl.

A 2-year-girl in the Rogers car was treated for cuts and six persons in the three car crash were released after hospital treatment. Judge was charged with driving

"Many of the children had not been away from home in four years," Sullivan said. "Just being away from mother for the mornings only was a major adjustment they had to make."

"Crying, and getting the children on the right buses are our major concerns right now," said Mrs. Sullivan. "Some of them hardly know their own names, and they can't remember their bus number. Each teacher is assigned one bus and she has a list of children who ride on that bus."

"We hope to field basketball, baseball and other regular varsity sports both for boys and girls," said W. E. Johnson of Chicago, the high school athletic director. "We also want to have a strong intramural program, and some gymnastics with the equipment we have and what ever else we can get."

Gary Saunders, a 1962 graduate of West Virginia University, will coach the basketball team.

The ungraded system is designed to move children ahead as fast as their abilities allow. An innovation in Virginia it will be closely watched by educators, particularly since four schoolless years provide a unique laboratory. Sullivan, an expert in the ungraded system, is not unmindful of the attention the schools will receive, but he makes it clear he believes the primary duty is to teach the children as much as possible in the one year the free schools will operate.

"There never has been a school like this before," he said, "and I hope there never will be again."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Investigation continued today into the efforts of two Ohio Penitentiary inmates to break out of the maximum security prison.

They were apprehended shortly after noon Sunday when Lt. Sam R. Smith, making a routine check, heard pounding and chiseling and alerted other guards.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

TAX CUT: A Republican congressman says President Kennedy's $11 billion tax cut proposal is designed to lead the nation down the road to a planned deficit spending economy.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis charged in a radio-television talk that "the President's actions, if not his words, demonstrate beyond doubt that he is advancing a new and untried fiscal theory for the United States, the theory of planned deficits."

The Missouriian's speech Saturday night was part of a continuing Republican barrage against passage of the tax cut unless Congress at the same time clamps a lid on federal spending.

CIVIL RIGHTS: Sen. Kenneth B. Keating says an on-the-spot hearing in Birmingham, Ala. — scene of 21 racial bombings in recent years — would help convince "the doubting Thomases" in the Senate of the urgency for civil rights legislation.

The New York Republican said Sunday in a taped radio-television broadcast for New York stations that such a hearing should be made with "proper precautions" and "in good faith" by the Senate Judiciary Committee or its Constitutional Rights subcommittee.

CRIME: Authorities say ex-mobster Joseph Valachi is nursing a seething rage against his former underworld pals and can hardly wait to testify against them in a Senate hearing which starts Wednesday.

The Justice Department will be responsible for security precautions in the crowded public hearing room during the appearance of Valachi, who reportedly has a $100,000 underworld price on his head for spilling the secrets of a national crime organization called Cosa Nostra.

CANADA-TRADE: Canada plans to help solve its international trade deficit by cutting down imports of U.S. auto parts.

Canadian officials informed the United States at an economic conference here that it hopes to create about 60,000 jobs in Canada by expanding auto parts production.

Canada now imports about 90 per cent of its auto parts from the United States.

At Least 5 Ohio Cities See Silent Racial Demonstrations

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Several thousand Negroes and whites participated in silent demonstrations in at least five cities in Ohio Sunday in memory of four Negro children killed in a church bombing in Birmingham, Ala., last week.

More than 400 persons marched silently down the main street of Yellow Springs wearing black armbands. Church bells tolled as they walked a mile to the Municipal Building for a memorial service.

In Columbus Gov. James A. Rhodes, who had declared Sunday a day of mourning for the bombing, and his family attended church services and prayed "for those who have lost their lives in the struggle to make America a free and unfettered country for all our citizens."

The flag at the Governor's Mansion was flown at half staff. Some 700 persons conducted a silent march of about a mile in the capital city and similar demonstrations were reported in Dayton and Middletown.

In Cincinnati some 1,000, rallied by the Congress of Racial Equality, marched quietly to downtown Fountain Square and stood for 10 minutes with heads bowed in silent mourning.

The mourners, predominantly Negro, sang "We Shall Overcome," then listened to a brief address by the Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, Negro Cincinnati pastor and president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights.

In Yellow Springs, James E. Fain, editor of the Dayton Daily News, told the demonstrators that "the real emancipation has not yet taken place in this country."

Fain, a former Atlanta newspaperman, said the significance of the "racial revolt of 1963 is not in the drama in Jackson or Birmingham. The efforts of good people throughout the country to bring about a racial democracy is more important."

There were calls for a "non-violent uprising" and a "massive nationwide campaign of civil disobedience" to protest what one speaker called "the last crime against the spirit of brotherhood — the senseless slaughter of the children."

The largest demonstrations were held in New York City and Washington.

In Shreveport, La., police riot squads and mounted sheriff's deputies broke up an attempt by 1,000 Negroes to hold a memorial parade. That was followed by a brief clash between Negroes and police outside a church.

A group of prominent Americans, headed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California and Charles Taft of Cincinnati, announced formation of "America's Conscience Fund" to rebuild the bombed 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham.

Four of the Negro children died in that bombing a week ago Sunday. Two Negro boys were shot to death in separate incidents that day. Funeral services for the boys were held Sunday.

"There should be no malice in anyone's heart toward anyone else," said a Negro minister, the Rev. J. R. Hicks, at one funeral. "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away."

Accused Drunk Driver Causes Injury to 10

CLEVELAND (AP)—A car going west traveled three miles in an eastbound lane of Memorial Shoreway and caused a series of accidents in which six cars were damaged and 10 persons shaken up Sunday.

Bratenahl police said Joseph P. Judge Jr., 38, of Wickliffe got into the wrong lane in Euclid. At East 100th Street Judge's auto sidwiped a car driven by David H. Bottesch, 23, of Garfield Heights, police said. Judge's car careened onto the divider and off again and collided with an auto driven by Airman I.C. Elmer Rogers, 21, of Bunker Hill Air Force Base, Ind.

Three other cars were involved in a chain collision at East 99th Street when one driver slammed on his brakes when he saw Judge's car headed toward him in an adjacent lane.

Judge's car finally stopped in Bratenahl.

A 2-year-girl in the Rogers car was treated for cuts and six persons in the three car crash were released after hospital treatment. Judge was charged with driving that the major problem has been one of adjustment.

"Many of the children had not been away from home in four years," Sullivan said. "Just being away from mother for the mornings only was a major adjustment they had to make."

"Crying, and getting the children on the right buses are our major concerns right now," said Mrs. Sullivan. "Some of them hardly know their own names, and they can't remember their bus number. Each teacher is assigned one bus and she has a list of children who ride on that bus."

"We hope to field basketball, baseball and other regular varsity sports both for boys and girls," said W. E. Johnson of Chicago, the high school athletic director. "We also want to have a strong intramural program, and some gymnastics with the equipment we have and what ever else we can get."

Gary Saunders, a 1962 graduate of West Virginia University, will coach the basketball team.

The ungraded system is designed to move children ahead as fast as their abilities allow. An innovation in Virginia it will be closely watched by educators, particularly since four schoolless years provide a unique laboratory. Sullivan, an expert in the ungraded system, is not unmindful of the attention the schools will receive, but he makes it clear he believes the primary duty is to teach the children as much as possible in the one year the free schools will operate.

"There never has been a school like this before," he said, "and I hope there never will be again."

Davenport Fire Doused by CFD

Circleville Firemen doused a davenport fire 9:02 p. m. Sunday, in a home occupied by Don Shisler, 217 Harrison St.

Firemen said George Arledge was in the house at the time. Shisler was not at home.

A cigarette apparently was the cause of the blaze, firemen said, although Arledge said he had not been smoking. The davenport was reported heavily damaged and smoke filled the house.

2 Convicts Fail To Break Out of Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Investigation continued today into the efforts of two Ohio Penitentiary inmates to break out of the maximum security prison.

Warden Ernie Maxwell said the pair, now lodged in a correctional cell block, have been charged with attempted escape.

He said a routine security check uncovered the breakout attempt of Robert Vermillion, 39, and Robert Haines, 30, both of Columbus.

They were apprehended shortly after noon Sunday when Lt. Sam R. Smith, making a routine check, heard pounding and chiseling and alerted other guards.

CINCINNATI (AP)—More than 50 health officials from throughout the nation gathered here today for the 15th annual Mental Hospital Institute of the American Psychiatric Association.

Maxwell said the men, housed in a dormitory with about 120 other inmates, were attempting to drill their way through a wall into the administrative section. This section, Maxwell explained, is not under maximum security during weekends.

The men, Maxwell said, apparently had been working quietly for at least two weeks on the project. They used a cold chisel, a three-pound hammer and bits of steel.

Maxwell said the inmates miscalculated and bore through a wall to the guard room. A search of the dormitory was conducted and the tools were confiscated. Residents from the drilled-out walls were found hidden in boxes and bags around the corm bunkers.
